V&E Healthcare Training & Consulting Inc. offers continuing nursing education courses on Domestic Violence, HIV/AIDS, and Preventing Medical Errors and many other classes in a live format. Please contact us for all your educational needs. These courses meet Florida continuing education requirements for license renewal. We are a proud partner of CE Broker and report completed courses automatically.

CE Requirements for RNs:

RNs are required to complete 24 hours of appropriate continuing education (CE) during each renewal period, including two (2) hours relating to prevention of medical errors. In addition to these 24 hours of general CE, each RN must complete two (2) hours of domestic violence CE every third renewal for a total of 26 hours. For initial licensure, RNs must complete one (1) hour of HIV/AIDS (one time requirement) and a two (2) hour course relating to prevention of medical errors.

New Requirement

Beginning with the biennium ending in 2015, each licensee shall complete a two-hour course on the laws and rules that govern the practice of nursing in Florida. This will be part of the total 24 hours that are required each biennium.

CE Requirements for LPNs:

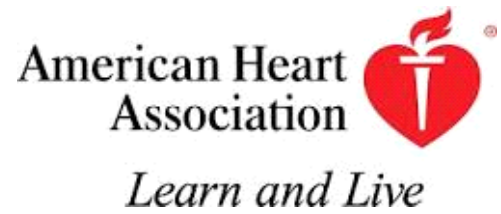

LPNs are required to complete 24 hours of appropriate continuing education (CE) during each renewal period, including two (2) hours relating to prevention of medical errors. In addition to these 24 hours of general CE, each LPN must complete two (2) hours of domestic violence CE every third renewal for a total of 26 hours. HIV/AIDS is now a one-time, 1-hour CE requirement to be completed prior to the first renewal.

New Requirement

Beginning with the biennium ending in 2015, each licensee shall complete a two-hour course on the laws and rules that govern the practice of nursing in Florida. This will be part of the total 24 hours that are required each biennium.

Continuing Education Courses listed in this FL State Required Courses category will help you to meet the requirements for RN and other healthcare professionals' licensure and re licensure in Florida.
